Dear AIMS family, colleagues, partners and friends,

Greetings from SEAMEO RIHED!

This year marks an important milestone for the Asian International Mobility for Students (AIMS) Programme. Since 2009, the student mobility scheme, which began as the Malaysia-Indonesia-Thailand (M-I-T) Pilot Programme, has successfully mobilised more than 4,154 students among 8 member countries (Brunei Darussalam, Indonesia, Japan, Republic of Korea, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand and Vietnam) and 69 participating higher education institutions in a span of 10 years.

In celebration of this milestone, the 10th anniversary of the Programme will be held adjunct to the 13th Review Meeting of the AIMS Programme on 11-13 November 2019 in Bangkok, Thailand. SEAMEO RIHED and the host of 13th Annual Review Meeting of the AIMS Programme, the Office of the Higher Education Commission (OHEC), Thailand, have delightfully prepared several activities to which stakeholders of the Programme, including the students, are invited to participate.

Students, university staff and governments alike can participate in taking advantage of policy platforms and expressing their creativity in reinvigorating the image of the AIMS Programme in the following activities, namely:

A. 10th Anniversary of the AIMS Programme Video Clip Compilation
B. AIMS Logo Design Contest
C. AIMS Students Speech Contest
D. AIMS Student Forum

Each of the activities are expected to benefit the participants and the AIMS Programme at large, especially in terms of enhancing its visibility and information accessibility.

About the AIMS Programme

Programme Summary

As part of the effort to achieve the sense of an ASEAN Community, with free movement of human resources and trade at the forefront of globalization, the Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization, Regional Centre for Higher Education and Development (SEAMEO RIHED) with the active involvement of the national authorities of Malaysia, Indonesia and Thailand initiated the Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand (or M-I-T) Programme as a Pilot Project. The Pilot Project is a collaborative and multilateral student exchange programme that involves both governments and higher education institutions (HEIs) to enhance student mobility in Southeast Asia particularly within the countries aforementioned.

Following its successful implementation, the M-I-T Student Mobility Programme was renamed to be the ASEAN International Mobility for Students (AIMS) Programme given the expansion of its membership to cover other countries. As of July 2018, AIMS offers undergraduate students a single semester exchange across 8 participating Member Countries, 69 HEIs, and among 10 study fields.

AIMS Member Countries (in order of joining) are: Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, Vietnam, Brunei Darussalam, the Philippines, Japan, and Republic of Korea. Singapore will officially join the Programme as the 9th Member Country.

Since the 12th Review Meeting of the AIMS Programme in 2018, the stakeholders agreed to modify the name of the Programme to be the Asian International Mobility for Students, retaining the abbreviation, noting the participation of East Asian countries such as Japan and the Republic of Korea, as well as in preparation to a broader vision and scope in the future.

In a decade of the AIMS Programme’s operation, one of its strength and unique points is its adherence to its 3 core principles: Self-sufficiency & Sustainability, Balanced Mobility & Reciprocity and Regional Mechanisms. Self-sufficiency is whereby each Member Country supports its own participation in the Programme, and where new members are encouraged to join based on their own readiness to participate. Furthermore, since past efforts in Southeast Asia, to promote student mobility have concentrated on bilateral agreements between HEIs in the region. Benefits, therefore, have only been limited to HEIs with these agreements. AIMS overcomes this limitation by working with both Governments and HEIs to develop a truly regional Programme. In response, the AIMS Programme adhered to maintain a Balanced Mobility & Reciprocity whereby national authorities responsible for higher education nominate HEIs to participate in study fields, and where the number of exchange students is mutually agreed upon and reciprocated in each study field. Lastly, Regional Mechanisms such as the AIMS Annual Review Meeting and AIMS Steering Committee Meeting ensure a strong support system from the regional stakeholders giving them opportunities to feedback, address challenges and propose further developments to the Programme.
Objectives
AIMS aspires to create a vibrant programme for all citizens of SEAMEO Member Countries and beyond, promoting the mobility of students in order to cultivate globalised human resources for the region, create and nurture an ASEAN identity in the minds of young people of the region, contribute to the internationalization of higher education in the region, and build towards the formulation of an ASEAN Community and a regional higher education common space.

The Study Fields
There are 10 study fields for participation. The Study Fields are determined based on a mutual agreement between national authorities and HEIs:

- Hospitality and Tourism
- Agriculture
- Language and Culture
- International Business
- Food Science and Technology
- Economics
- Engineering
- Environmental Management and Science
- Biodiversity
- Marine Science

1. Signifying the first component of the overarching theme, “Advancing” was meant to communicate the dynamic future for the region in the face of the 4th Industrial Revolution where technological advancements are seen as the tool to enhancing competitiveness and combating regional and global challenges. In line with this, it is the aim of the region is to become a ‘Digital ASEAN.’

2. The second component, “Partnership” communicates the relevance of ASEAN as a regional body and recognizing its dialogue partners, as well as the global community within which ASEAN exists. It also signifies ASEAN’s role in these global partnerships to address global issues such as human security, inclusive society, environmental protection, and etc.

3. Lastly, the third component, “Sustainability” is a reminder of keeping a sustainable mindset in all aspects of growth such as in economy, security and development.
